MISSION IS PREPARING FOR THE FESTIVAL

BEAUTIFUL GROUNDS REPLACE THE NETWORK OF WEEDS AND EVERYTHING IS IN READINESS FOR THE EVENT, WHICH COMMENCES TUESDAY.

Surely a transformation scene has taken place in the premises at the corner of Government and Reus streets now occupied by the Mission.

Five weeks ago nothing but a network of weeds, the growth of three or four years, a perfect eyecore to the neighborhood; today, in preparation for the festival which commences on Tuesday next and lasts until Saturday, inclusive, the grounds are leveled, grass is showing and flower beds, rustic seats with rustic tree stands for ferns are dotted round. There is also a rustic log seat with lattice work projecting over it making an ideal place to tell love's story. Summer houses are finished and when the grounds are lighted up by two large gas arc burners besides numbers of Chinese lanterns, there will be a very pretty sight.

It is not fair to state all the excitement provided by the amusement committee, but there will be a north pole, a Japanese tea room, fish ponds, Aunt Sally and the celebrated Lovell from Mars, who will tell you things you have never experienced and prophesy that which will not come to pass.

The music committee have been very busy and the result will be a fine concert at both afternoon and evening, the programs for which will be published daily. Some of the very best talent in the city has offered their services, and not only the Mission, but the public will fully appreciate the kindness and sympathy in donating their services to the cause.

Busy Committee.
The ticket committee will be the busiest of all; about sixty young ladies will be selling checks for ten cents each, a separate color for each day. Tuesday will be yellow day, Wednesday green day, and so on. These checks admit to both afternoon and evening but must be worn. Everybody had better wear a check or else the ladies will not take "No" for an answer.

The reception committee will be on hand to give everybody a hearty welcome and show them the sights.

The reading and writing rooms will be open for inspection; in fact, the Mission desires their friends to survey the whole work.

Object of Festival.
The object of this festival is principally to furnish a women's and children's home—a rescue station—and it is proposed to make it an annual affair to sustain the Mission and thus save having to depend upon personal subscriptions. If Pensacola will enter fully and largely into this movement, by wearing the checks as requested, and showing their interest in the work by a visit, enough funds will be raised to make it complete and those that have pride in their city institutions should talk it among their friends.

As soon as the Mission Home is completed, the advisory committee will be asked to audit the accounts of the Mission work, and prepare a statement for the public, as well as to see the institution incorporated, and thus placed upon a legal footing.

Sunday after there will be a nice program, and regular scholars will receive checks of free admittance good for the whole week, others who have come only within a Sunday or two in proper 3-15 is the hour, and a large attendance is expected.

Sunday evening at 7:30 regular service with good singing by the choir, preaching by Rev. R. W. Simpson. An enjoyable hour is spent at these very informal Mission meetings and the people are loath to separate.

The third week of the noonday prayer meeting commences on Monday. The attendance is a little better, but very far from what it should be. If the business man or woman will make an effort to attend, if only for five minutes, it will break the ice for a continued term.

The Final Discussion.
It is especially requested that every member of the executive committee, the music, amusement and ticket committees be on hand at No. 8 North Palafox street Monday at 3 p. m. for final discussion on the festival and to receive tickets and badges. All the ladies that can are invited to help decorate for the festival at the Mission house Monday morning any time after 8 o'clock. Plans of all kinds will be acceptable, and when notified will be sent for. Telephone 146 and ask for the Mission.

The night school will commence Monday evening, the 18th instant, at 7:30. The Mission is still open for a purchase and wear of the festival checks from Tuesday to end of week. The ladies will not ask you to buy twice. Show the right color and you are safe.

One day during the week, to be published later, will be Children's day; all under 12 years of age two admitted on one right colored check. An animal hunt will be given and two prizes offered for the right animals. Children will gather at 3:30, the hunt to commence at 4 p. m.

Any of the children having no further use for discarded school books will please help the Mission night school by donating them. Please bring them or send word where to send.

Look out for the daily program of the festival to be published and all join in one week of amusement as well as of such great help to those who cannot help themselves.

WALL STREET REVIEW.

By Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 9.—The opening stock market today showed the effects of selling pressure again in the general fractional decline in prices. There were running sales of 10,000 shares of United States Steel at 37 7-8 to 36 7-8 compared with 37 7-8 last night. Chesapeake and Ohio declined 1, and Union Pacific and North American 5-8.

Some additional fractional recessions were made before there was any sustaining effect for prices. United States Steel, Reading and Union Pacific were bought freely at the low prices and the railroad list generally back to where it ended yesterday. Wells-Fargo Express sold at 35 1-4, compared with 33, the previous sale in May last.

The market closed easy and dull. Recoveries were complete, including United States Steel, but as closing time approached prices sagged again. Pittsburgh, C. C. & St. Louis, Erie first preferred, and Central Leather rose 1. American Locomotive declined 1 1-2, Delaware and Hudson and Colorado and Southern 1 3-8, and Atchison, National Railway of Mexico first preferred, Great Northern one-eighth, U. S. Rubber, American Woolen and Utah Copper 1. Prices stiffened slightly at the last.

New York Cotton Market.
New York, Oct. 9.—English cotton market news this morning was all of a bullish character. Liverpool contracts being 4 points better than due, closing net unchanged to 1 1-2 points lower against an expected decline of 4 1-2 to 6 1-2 points. The local market opened steady 2 to 7 points higher and further advanced until a net gain of 10 to 12 points was shown, when profit taking and light southern head-selling checked further improvement.

Heavy rains in portions of Northern Texas and fears of a frost over the northwestern belt before Monday were factors on the advance.

The market closed steady with prices net 5 to 12 points higher. Cotton futures opened steady. October, 13 1-8; November, 13 2-8; offered: December and January, 13 3-4; March, 13 3-4; May, 13 3-4; July, 13 3-4 to 13 3-4; September, 12 3-4, offered.

Liverpool Cotton.
Liverpool, Oct. 9.—Closing: Spot, quiet; prices 3 points lower; American middling fair, 7 1-4; good middling, 7 1-4; middling, 7 1-4; low middling, 7 1-4.

Grain Review.

Chicago, Oct. 9.—A revised estimate of the world's shipments for the week made by a well known foreign crop statistician, placing the total movement at nearly 14,000,000 bushels and a depressing effect on the wheat market here at the opening. Moderate buying by shorts soon caused a slight upturn. Trade was extremely quiet at the start and prices were in evidence in the corn market and profit taking by local longs. December opened unchanged to 1-8 to 1-4 cent lower at 58 3-8 to 58 1-2 to 58 5-8 and for a time held within that range.

After effects of the bulge which followed the publication of the government crop report yesterday were in evidence in the corn market and profit taking by local longs. December opened unchanged to 1-8 to 1-4 cent lower at 58 3-8 to 58 1-2 to 58 5-8 and for a time held within that range.

Trading in oats was dull. December opened unchanged to 1-8 cent higher at 38 7-8 to 39 and failed to get outside trade early in the day. Provisions were firm owing to a 5 cent advance in live hogs. Trading was quiet and confined chiefly to pork and lard. Prices at the opening were 2 1-2 to 7 1-2 cents higher.

Cash: Wheat No. 2 red, 1.18 1-2; No. 2 northern, 1.04 1-2; No. 3, spring, bales, of which 300 were for speculation and export and included 6,300 American. Receipts 2,000 bales including 1,200 American. Futures opened easier and closed very steady.
